2009 Summer Programs for High School Students

Location	Program Details
University of Maryland, College Park	Exploring Engineering at the University of Maryland (E2@UMD) is a one-week summer program for high school girls (rising juniors or seniors) who are considering engineering as a possible major and career. You will live on campus for one-week and explore the world of engineering through fun hands-on activities, laboratory experiments, informative workshops, team challenges, and seminars with professional engineers. Sessions will take place on July 12-18 and on July 19-25. The cost is $550. Please visit http://www.wie.umd.edu/precollege/e2umd.html for more details.
University of Maryland Young Scholars Program	This program targets rising juniors and seniors who have a strong academic record and desire to excel and experience college life while earning three academic credits. Fourteen courses are offered for three weeks from July 12 – 31, 2009. Visit www.ysp.umd.edu/pr for more information.
Summer Enrichment Program at Penn State	Summer Study Program offers high school and middle school students the rare opportunity to “taste” college life while still in an organized and supervised environment. Please visit www.bestsummerever.com for further details.

Dear Class of 2009:

Graduation! This official ceremony is right around the corner and with it comes a varying degree of emotion and elation. It is also the point of time that closes one chapter of your life and opens another.

I have been blessed to be a part of your high school chapter and witness the growth that each one of you experienced. This is my 4th year at TMA, so that means that I have been on the journey with most of you since your 9th grade year. I appreciate you opening up your lives and allowing me to be a part of your growth experience.

As a senior class you have impressed me by your spiritual maturity, your passion for our Lord, and your desire to do your best. I am excited about the next chapter in your life where the Lord will work through each of you to expand his kingdom by using your many talents for His glory.

I will miss your smiles, your sense of humor, the hugs, your inquisitive minds, your willingness to help, and your daily visits to the Guidance office. You have definitely left a positive mark at TMA and your legacy will live on in the upcoming classes that follow your steps.

I know that your futures are blessed if you “trust in the Lord with all your heart, and lean not on your own understanding.” (Proverbs 3:5) If you get stuck in knowing what God’s plan is for your future, remember the key for you lies in the fact that “in all your ways acknowledge Him and He shall direct your paths.”

Keep in touch with me by emailing or stopping by. I desire to know how you are doing and hope to have some role in your future stories in the next chapters of your life. May our Lord bless you and keep you. I will miss you.

Blessings,

Mrs. Outerbridge
